CALIFORNIA MAY BAN ALL FOREIGNERS FROM HOLDING LAND WITHIN STATE

California Congressman Has Plan to Placate the Japanese Government by Putting All Aliens in Same Class as the Yellow Race.

GREAT BRITAIN WOULD FAVOR MOVE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The report that Japan had withdrawn opposition to the California anti-Japanese land law took a new turn today when Representative Kahn announced he had called a meeting of the House California delegation to consider widening the law to prohibit land holdings by all foreigners. The meeting will be held today by Kahn who is ranking member of the California delegation. The meeting is considered highly significant in the light of these two points:

First, application of the present anti-alien land law to all foreigners would automatically nullify the protest of Japan against the measure as discriminatory to Japan even if Japan continued her opposition.

Second, widening of the law would act as a check against large British oil holdings in California. It was believed that Great Britain would then influence Japan to withdraw her opposition.

If the other members of the delegation agree with Kahn the new law will be recommended to the California legislature.

SECOND INVASION OF "BAD LANDS" TO FORCE RESPECT FOR LAW AND ORDER

HURLEY, Wis., Dec. 28.—A second invasion of the "bad lands" of the northwest country by federal officers to create a wholesome respect for the National Prohibition Law was in progress today with this village as the objective. Seventy-five agents slipped out of Chicago last night expecting to arrive here during the morning with search warrants for two score saloon keepers and other alleged violators of the law. Warrants for the arrest of the men were issued last night by Judge K. M. Landis, at La Crosse, Wis. At the request of the district prohibition officer Judge Landis went to the District Court at La Crosse and issued the warrants personally to assure no "big game." Not even prohibition enforcement officers in the La Crosse territory knew of the issuance of the warrants.

MYSTERY IN SENDING OF HUMAN EAR TO SING SING CONVICT ON CHRISTMAS

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—A gruesome mystery in which a human ear was sent to a convict in Sing Sing prison as a "Christmas present" is engaging the attention of the District Attorney's office here. The ear, so withered that it was impossible to determine whether it was that from the head of a child or an adult, was carefully wrapped in tissue paper and tied with a red ribbon and left at the prison among gifts for Vincent Valanotti who a year ago began a 15 year sentence for man slaughter. The package was delivered by Valanotti's wife but it was admitted at the District Attorney's office that detectives were unable to trace her.

Following the usual custom Sing Sing attaches examined the packages and found the ear. They did not report the finding to Valanotti and said today that unless other prisoners had learned of the thing and informed him he knew nothing of the find. The theory most generally advanced at Sing Sing is that the ear was slashed from the head of some person in some degree responsible for Valanotti's arrest.

FAILURE OF RAILROADS TO EARN THE GUARANTEED DIVIDEND MAY THROW PROBLEM BACK TO HALLS OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—A growing uneasiness that the railroad problem may be thrown back into Congress became apparent among both legislators and railroad men today. Despite possibilities of the Esch-Cummins Transportation Law and the efforts of railroad executives and the government to work out a solution under it many questions today were listed as demanding answers.

The Transportation Act as interpreted by the Interstate Commerce Commission guarantees the railroads earnings of 6 per cent. In August the Interstate Commerce Commission authorized the highest rates in history to accomplish this. In September the railroads were twenty-nine millions short of earning 6 per cent. and in October the railroads were twenty million short. Reports for other months have not been made up but railroad men admit they also will show a shortage.

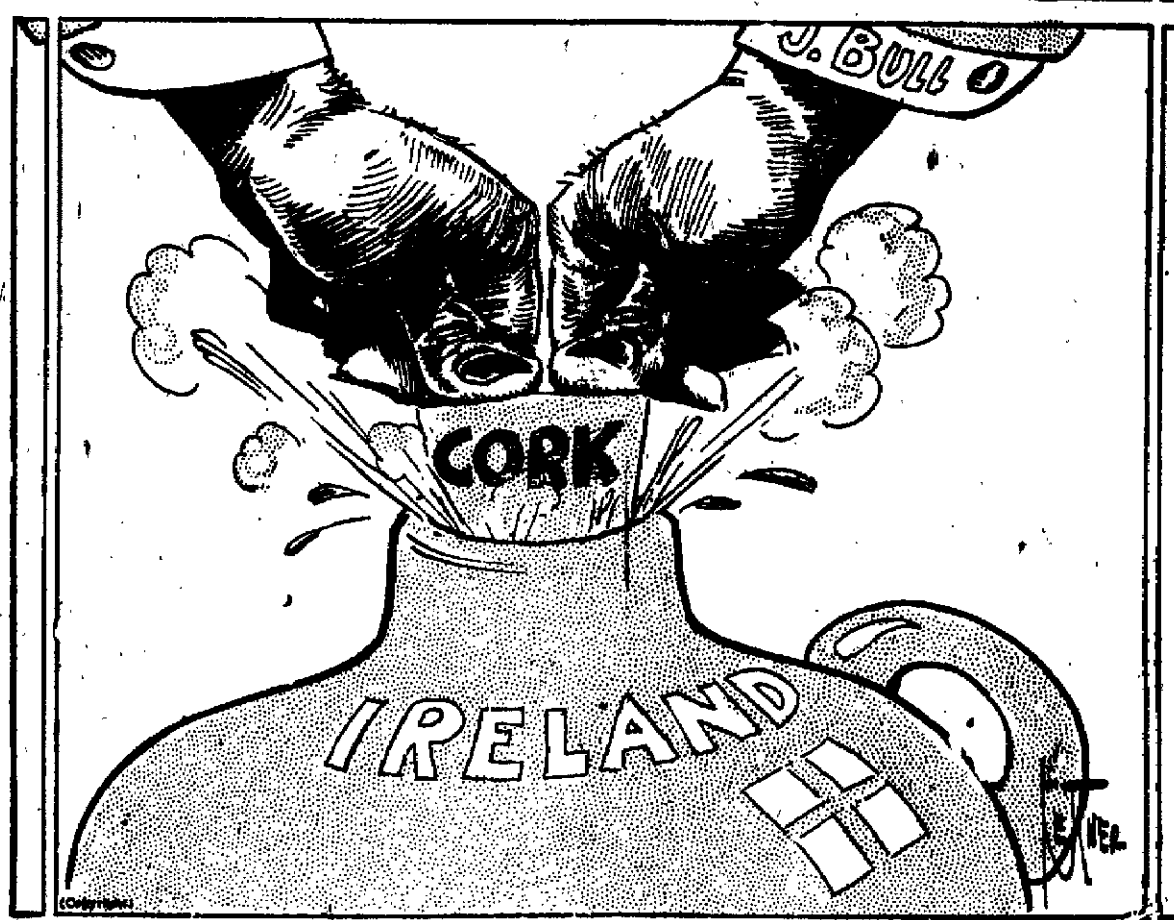

MAYFLOWER PARTIALLY DESTROYED BY FIRE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The yacht Mayflower on which American Presidents and cabinet officers as well as notables of every other nation have ridden caught fire at her wharf today. The crew and officers quarters were partially destroyed. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The blaze was believed to have started in the crew's quarters but the cause was not determined.

EDISON WORKS SUSPEND

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Dec. 28.—The Edison Phonograph works here will close for an indefinite time it was announced today, the result of "general business conditions." Approximately 800 persons will be thrown out of work in addition to 1200 already laid off during the last six weeks. The shut down does not affect the record department.

SURVEYOR GIRLS ANSWER ARTICLE ON DANCE DRESS

Resent Insinuation That Many Are Wall Flowers and Say Dances Down There Are Nice.

DRESS NEATLY COMPLETE

Surveyor, Pa., Dec. 27, 1920. Editor Progress, Clearfield, Pa.

Dear Sir.—Some few days ago you published an article with a Surveyor date line in which it was stated that the Surveyor girls attended dances carelessly, because the young men of the village referred to the coquet wearing dancing partner as "old Ironsides," and allowed her to remain a "wall posy" as the "dance went on." We Surveyor people would like to have a correction made. In the first place we have very few dances down here, and secondly they are as decorous and as well behaved as any held in the dining ball room, Clearfield, Pa.

Our girls dress just as neatly and as completely as do Clearfield girls or the girls of any other community. They are just as pretty; just as graceful and expert dancers, while their clothing is as stylish and complete in every particular as can be found even on the belles of the effete county seat.

We would like to impress upon you and your readers that Surveyor girls are the equals in every way of any other heavy of girls to be found anywhere in this broad land and if the correspondent who is responsible for the item complained of will kindly come down to Surveyor to investigate the statements contained in this letter we will guarantee to make it decidedly pleasant for him.

Prof. Shuey also has "a rod in pickle" for him.

Yours very truly,

Those Surveyor Girls.

AGED MOUNTAINEER LOSES HOME AND WINTER SUPPLIES

Alex. Wallace the Victim of Hard Luck and Needs Help To Put Him Thru the Winter Ahead.

WILL YOU GIVE A LIFT?

Alex Wallace, the mountaineer, had a bad Christmas this year. Alex lives alone, when he was not at his camp on the mountains, in his farm house near the old Joe Shaw mill on Lick Run. On Christmas eve he went out to the barn to feed his mules, leaving a lighted coal oil lamp on the table in the living room of the house.

On completing his work at the barn Alex stepped out to find the house a mass of flames and house and contents were quickly and entirely destroyed.

Mr. Wallace had feed and provisions enough to last him through the winter and this all went up in smoke, together with his household goods, clothing, his guns, fishing tackle and about everything he possessed. Alex is getting up in years and the blow is a severe one to him. He is now being cared for by neighbors, but is badly in need of assistance.

Here is a chance for the charitably inclined of our community to relieve distress right here at home. The Progress hereby agrees to contribute $5.00 toward a fund to help build a shelter and put Alex on his feet again for the winter. Who will match us? Let us have your name and contribution.

ANDY MCGOURLEY DIES AT COUNTY HOME

Andrew McGourley, who lived in Clearfield for the past three years and was known to many of our local people, died in the county home at this place, on the day before Christmas, at the age of sixty-eight years. Mr. McGourley was a New Englander by birth but was a sea faring man most of his life and had no place that he called home. He served his country for many years as a sailor in the United States navy and in the Merchant Marine.

There were few places on the globe that "Andy" had not visited in his travels and he took great delight during the last years of his life in entertaining his friends with the many thrilling adventures he had encountered in his long experience at sea.

He was buried this morning from St. Francis church, the Rev. Father M. A. Ryan, officiating.

ITALIAN REGULARS WITHIN A MILE OF CENTER OF FIUME AND ARE ADVANCING

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 28.—General Cavaglia's forces are within a mile of the center of Fiume, wounded Italian soldiers here indicated today. The city is veiled in dense smoke, they said, caused by the great fires in the forest surrounding the city and the explosion of mines wrecking the bridges and streets to impede the regulars. The regulars have occupied the gardens and the railroad station.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—A Central News Agency dispatch from Rome today quoted President Giolitti as saying to newspaper men "there is reason to believe the regular troops have occupied Fiume."

ROME, Dec. 28.—Land and sea operations developed rapidly around Fiume today. With constantly increasing pressure the regular forces crept toward the heart of the city. Thirty regulars have been killed and 150 wounded in the sniping. Mine defense of D'Annunzio's troops which have been planted in the center of the city have wrecked the bridges which were a feature of the port's architecture. Heavy approach to headquarters has been mined. Orders have been issued that no buildings should be spared if their destruction will halt the approach of the regulars. D'Annunzio was reported to have declared he would destroy the city rather than submit to the regular army. His proclamation reached a climax with an impassioned appeal in which he asked the support of the Italian people. Copies of the document were found among the advancing forces but officers denied the men had been affected by the propaganda.

HARDING STRONGLY URGED TO OPEN UP TRADE NEGOTIATIONS WITH RUSSIANS

MARION, Ohio, Dec. 28.—Restoration of trade with Russia is being urged on President-elect Harding by some of his influential advisors and he is seriously considering it as one of the proposed policies of the incoming administration. The reported cancellation by Soviet Russia of millions of dollars in contracts with America aided today in bringing the Russia question into the front ranks of the problems facing the new president. Herbert Hoover and others in Marion strongly urged upon Harding the necessity of securing some of the Russian trade. Hoover, however, has no sympathy with the Russian government and is opposed to doing anything which would savor of a possible recognition of the government.

WOMAN AND THREE CHILDREN KILLED TO DEATH IN YORK STATE VILLAGE

MT. MORRIS, N. Y., Dec. 28.—Three children and a woman were burned to death, and two other children and their father narrowly escaped the same fate at Leicester near here today when the home of Wm. Barrett was completely destroyed. The dead are Nelson, aged 6, his two sisters, Ora aged 7, Mildred aged 4 and Alice Karman, aged 30, housekeeper at the Barrett home.

NAVY CLERK ON DESTROYER SATTERTLEE ESCAPES WITH PAYROLL OF $72,000

NORFOLK, W. Va.,—Yeoman W. H. T. Myers today was absent from the destroyer Satterlee with $72,000, the payroll which was to carry the vessel on a tour of South America. An all night search was conducted for Myers. Myers disappeared from the vessel after signing for the money which was delivered by an express messenger. An apprentice yeoman accompanied Myers, the officers said. Myers is 20 years old and his home is in Allentown, Pa.

RESPECTED PARADISE RESIDENT DIES

BUGLER ALLEN IS PRAISED FOR WORK

Bugler John Allen arrived here last evening. The Plattsburgh newspaper has the following interesting account of Bugler Allen's talents: "Last night witnessed the departure of another of the few good buglers in the U. S. Army, when Bugler John Allen of Company 'E', 68th Infantry received his discharge and left for his home in Clearfield, Pa."

Many of the people of the town will remember Bugler Allen, by his wonderful "Taps" which he blew over the grave of Sergeant Thomas Kelly, (retired), and which call was universally declared by all who heard it, as the most touching bugle-call they had ever heard.

Bugler Allen was a member of the 26th Infantry 1st Division, while overseas and saw some very hard fighting, being wounded twice. He was assigned to duty with the 68th Infantry, after a period of convalescence at the General Hospital No. 30, which formerly was at this post. His departure is regretted by many of his friends not only at the post, but among the civil population at Plattsburgh, and all wish him God-speed on his way."

Misses Alice and Mary Duckett of Clearfield are visiting at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Duckett.

Mrs. Ernest Kolbe and sons of Stoneboro are visiting her daughter Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Duckett before leaving for Key West, Florida.

The good effects generally of the Eighteenth Amendment are gradually forging to the front regardless of the liquid wall of the bootlegger who has been so promiscuously plying his nefarious trade in this region since the country went dry. The unfailing barometer which records unerringly the increase and decrease in crime in the county jail and the records of the Clearfield county jail show that during the past year there were but 178 prisoners committed to jail here, while the number for the year 1919 totaled 259.

Thus it will be seen a great deal of good has already been accomplished, and better things along this line may be confidently looked forward to from year to year as the supply of booze rapidly fades away.

Those who were out late Christmas eve say the drunkenness on the streets in Philipsburg was almost as widespread as the night before wartime prohibition became effective. The men who are supplying this liquor to consumers, in violation of the constitution of the United States, are among the country's most dangerous enemies, for they are showing a contempt for law that is certain to have a bad influence on others. Philipsburg Journal.

Philipsburg had nothing on Clearfield as our streets were congested with drunks Saturday evening, nine men landing in the lockup, all of whom were found with quart bottles of liquor on their persons. Bootleggers were in Clearfield the week previous to Christmas soliciting the thirty to buy whiskey at $100 per case. A truck load of the vile stuff was brought into the town on Thursday evening and it was this load of booze that polluted our town.

Holders of partly filled War Savings Certificates should buy the necessary number of Savings Stamps to fill out the cards before the end of the year, as on January 1st, 1921, a new series begins, cautions George E. Lloyd, Director of the Savings Division of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve District.

Anyone having an unfilled Savings Certificate and wishing to complete it in order to obtain a Treasury Certificate should bear this in mind. The 1920 Certificates fall due on January 1st, 1921, and are registered against any possible loss by theft, fire, etc. Purchasers of 1920 Savings Stamps, costing $4.25 this month, ought to take advantage of the fact that they will not have to wait the full five years until they mature, but only four years more.

New Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates will be placed on sale at all post offices and authorized banks and agencies after December 31st, when the 1920 series ends. Thrift Stamps are any time good in exchange for either this year's or next year's Savings Stamps. The 1921 Savings Stamps will cost $4.12 in January and the $100 and $1000 Certificates will cost $82.40 and $824.00 respectively.

In addition to these old government savings securities, the new $1 stamps and $25 Savings Certificates will be offered for sale on January 1st. The dollar stamp will not bear interest but the $25 Certificates will earn 4 1/2 per cent interest compounded quarterly if held to maturity. They will cost $20.50 in January and increase in price at the rate of 5 cents a month.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

Sound at the Core

THE fundamental soundness of America is a guarantee for better business in 1921.

During the present period of economic readjustment, business men are putting their houses in order in confident preparation for the period of better business soon to come.

The New York Central Lines, which carry one-tenth of the railroad traffic of this country, are ready to perform their full share of the work ahead.

Every business man knows the part that bad transportation can play in aggravating business troubles. Every business man knows how, at times in the past, he has been embarrassed and hindered by freight congestion and slow deliveries.

Sound transportation conditions are a stimulus to business, just as are sound banking conditions. Transportation and credit are the cornerstones of good business.

Substantial progress has already been made in rehabilitating the New York Central Lines from the rack and tear of War demands. New cars and locomotives are now coming into service; much has been done in overhauling existing equipment; and the New York Central Lines are, today, in position to carry even a greater share of the burden of transportation than ever before.

New York Central preparedness means ease of transportation, which invites fuller production and business growth over a wide and industrially dominant territory.

"TRUMPET ISLAND"

Three lives, one a path of roses, another of rocks and a third full of mud, travel along together. Sometimes they almost meet and then diverge. Again they cross and then the road of mud ends in darkness. The path of rocks becomes one of primroses and the road of flowers is filled with thorns. It is a beautiful story, a picture of contrasts; high lights and deep shadows. The wild debauch in the Towers studio with wise, women and song, stands out against the simplicity of the life on Trumpet Island, where Richard goes to redeem himself. There are many spectacular thrills, such as the electrical storm which wrecks the airplane in which Eve and her husband commence their honeymoon, and the sensational fall into the ocean, a thousand feet below. From this point the story soars to new heights and touches spots never before shown in motion pictures. "TRUMPET ISLAND" is different. We DO want you to come and see it.

ORANGE CRUSH IS REAL ORANGE SAYS
LITERARY DIGEST

An editorial injustice to the well known drink, Orange-Crush, inadvertently made by The Literary Digest in its October 30 number, has been fully retracted by the publishers in an article appearing December 4. The error was made in a short editorial preface to the reprint of an article from the U. S. Public Health Reports on the subject of "Fake Orange Drinks." Although this article was not directed against Orange-Crush, which derives all its flavor from the oil, juice and acid of actual oranges, yet the editorial preface mistakenly included the drink by name in the following language: "Orangeade and 'orange crush' that never came nearer to an orange than the tanks of a synthetic chemical laboratory are no longer to be served under those names with Uncle Sam's permission." This statement was fully corrected in The Literary Digest for December 4 in an editorial entitled "Fruit Juices in Fruit Drinks." The retraction appears on page 31 in the following language:

"A reference was made in our article of October 30 to 'orange crush' as made in a synthetic laboratory, and we further said that it was no longer to be served under this name with the Government's permission. This statement we wish to correct. Ward's Orange Crush, which is the only orange drink marketed under the trade-name 'crush', is, as per their label, composed of orange-oil, citric acid, orange-juice, pure granulated cane-sugar and water, and colored with United States certified food color. As the government report was quoted in these columns, it is only right to give our readers this additional word of explanation and reassurance."

SAYS IT FIRST AND SAYS IT LAST

Carrie G. Harrel, 319 Nicholson St., Norfolk, Va., writes: "I'll tell anybody that Foley's Honey and Tar is all right. It did me all the good. I said it first and I'll say it last." Thousands of bottles of this reliable remedy were bought last week by careful mothers so as to be prepared to check coughs, colds and croup at the beginning. It acts almost instantly, cuts phlegm, soothes raw, irritated membranes, stops tickling in throat.

"Shipwrecked Among Cannibals"

The Authentic Picture Story of the Adventure of Two During American Campaign Among the Man-Eating Savages of New Guinea

See the depths from which we cannot escape at its lowest ebb! Six men of almost unbreakable nerves made at the bottom of the world—a place that forgot. Where women shriek and men howl to shake them beautiful. Where men hunger for the flesh of all human semblance to make their brutal desire—where a million bones about a thousand cannibal feast—where the face of a babe looks thirty years old—where children's playthings are human skulls. See the wild orgies of the Head-hunters—the blood-baths—the amazing customs, dress and behavior of these amazing savages. View these most dramatic of all the pictures ever taken since the world began and you'll see something that is the sensation of the picture year all over the country—an imperishable drama that you'll never forget.

More Poultry Pin Money

You can get more eggs and make more money by feeding hens more material for making whites of eggs. No grain feed contains anything like enough white-making material (protein). As a result many yolks are formed in the hen's body that are never laid.

Purina Poultry Chows

fed together, make more eggs because they supply the scientific balance of all the elements a hen requires to produce the highest number of whites and yolks of which she is capable. Purina Poultry Chows are sold under an iron-bound guarantee of More Eggs or Money Back.
